There are a lot of websites. They can be about sport, entertainment, medicine and so on. New sites pop up in the Internet every day. I thought about how my own site would look. I think I'd create a site of world famous paintings. It might look like a mini gallery where you can look and read about popular paintings by legendary painters. I can only imagine how many people are going to find it more comfortable to look at the paintings at home. As for me, it can save some time and educate you in art. That's why I want to make a site of worldwide paintings.
